

AI sheet: Cillian ag comhaireamh

Title and general description	Cillian ag comhaireamh It's Cillian's birthday ... but has everyone forgotten about it? He spends the day as a train conductor, helping his uncle count people and tickets on the train. From carriage to carriage we follow Cillian as he counts. An interactive story suitable for children aged 5+. Full colour.
Author	Siobhain Grogan is a full-time teacher in the Dominican College, Griffith Avenue, with three children who are being raised with Irish. Upon noticing how few Irish-language resources there were for reading, playing and learning she decided to write her book, Cén t-am é? (Cois Life, 2009). The book was shortlisted for the Réics Carló award in 2009 (Book of the year for young people). Siobhain won the Language Ambassador of the Year Prize in 2012 (The European Language Label). She is the Irish language officer of Sult na Sollán (a community group in Sallins, Co. Kildare), as well as being the chair of the business scheme, Cill Dara le Gaeilge.
